Dr. Walter C. Langsam, Newly Elected President Of College, Addresses Interfaculty Club

Dr. Walter C. Langsam, newly-elected president of Gettysburg college, and presently president of Wagner college, Staten Island, N. Y., told the Interfaculty club of the college and seminary at a dinner meeting at the Trinity Reformed church Tuesday evening that the American people are suffering from a machine age of the mind. (The full text of his address begins in the adjoining column.)

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, who will retire as president of the college after serving 29 years, said that those were "29 years of the sweetest experience that any two individuals ever enjoyed."

In presenting Dr. Langsam, Dr. Hanson stated, "To us will come shortly a gentleman who has won his spurs on world achievement. No man wishes him more success than I do; no man is more appreciative of another man taking over than I am. Dr. Langsam, I want to present you to the finest people I know, my faculty."

Present Langsam Family

Dr. and Mrs. Langsam, and their two sons, Walter, 16, and Geoffrey, 14, who are both students at Staten Island academy, and who were introduced at the banquet, returned home this morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Others introduced were Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Baughman, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schmidt, who served as chairmen of the dinner committee; Dr. Harold Dunkelberger, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Dunkelberger.

Dr. Harry F. Baughman, president of the Lutheran Theological seminary, offered invocation, and Dean of Women Dorothy G. Lee served as toastmistress. More than 125 persons attended.

SONS GUESTS OF LIONS AT DINNER IN BIGLERVILLE

George Washington and Abraham Lincoln had one thing in common—honesty—the Rev. Dr. O. D. Coble, Benderville, said Tuesday night in a talk given at the Fathers and Sons night program held by the Upper Adams Lions club at the Biglerville community center.

The two men who were outstanding as American presidents are in many respects "totally dissimilar," Rev. Dr. Coble said. "Washington was rich, Lincoln poor; Washington was an aristocrat, Lincoln, a backwoodsman. Washington received the best education possible; Lincoln was mostly self-taught. But the two men had this in common, perfect honesty and love of country."

Seventy-two Lions members and 56 sons attended the dinner meeting. Al Ross, Baltimore radio and television performer who was master of ceremonies for the first two Lions club Barbershop Quartet programs at the South Mountain fairgrounds, will also be master of ceremonies for the third annual contest to be held April 18 at the fairgrounds.

Further plans for the barbershop quartet contest were outlined at a meeting of the sub-committee in charge held while the program for the Lions meeting was being presented to the members and youngsters who were their guests.

The committee for the contest discussed the possibility of having some additional type of entertainment for the event.

President Arnold Orner presided at the Lions meeting. Bruce Taylor was in charge of the program. In addition to the talk by Doctor Coble, a Red Cross motion picture, a comedy and a travelogue were shown.

Earl Fohl led group singing with Earl Becker at the piano. First Vice President John Klinefelter closed the meeting.

Loyalty Oath Issue Up To Solicitors

Local solicitors will have to determine whether state, county, township and school employees will have to take the Loyalty oath again if they have already been administered the oath, Attorney General Robert E. Woodside said today.

Some of those who are required to take the oath have done so. The law, however, specifies that the oath be administered during March. Local solicitors will determine whether the oath will be administered a second time.

Woodside said the question is a local matter and therefore the state will not intervene with a formal ruling. He added however all state employees will take the oath during March.

CRIME CAUSES ENUMERATED BY CLUB SPEAKER

"The American people have about decided that when evidence of crime is shown, regardless of politics, they are going to change the picture," Otto F. Messner, Pennsylvania secretary of revenue, told members of the Exchange club and guests Tuesday night. He was the featured speaker on the club's Crime Prevention Week program at the weekly dinner meeting at Bankert's restaurant.

Guests, in addition to Mr. Messner, included Judge W. C. Sheely, president judge of the Adams county courts; Burgess William G. Weaver; C. Arthur Brame, county probation officer; Sgt. Joseph E. Temple, officer in charge of the Gettysburg substation of the Pennsylvania state police; Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times; Murray Goldsborough, manager of radio station WGET, and Lester Blair, chief engineer of WGET, and Ben Hughes, Harrisburg.

Cites Cause Of Crime

David E. Garfinkle, Jr., president of the club presided, and Mr. Messner was introduced by Assemblyman H. Earl Pitzer, Aspers, a member of the Exchange club. "Investigations have shown that the great increase in crime in the United States has been due largely to the following causes: The great and extended control of government over the people; lavish expenditures of money and increased taxation; the feeling among subordinates that the man higher up will take care of them, and the feeling among

RITCHIE WORK AT STANDSTILL

All work at the one-time 10 million dollar Camp Ritchie housing project is at a standstill today as the 200 remaining workmen on the job enter their third week on strike against the John McShain Construction company.

The strike was started by four workmen who seek a raise of 25 cents per hour. The other union men walked out in sympathy with the four original strikers.

According to the current issue of the Engineers News Record, the McShain company has now been listed as on a sit-down strike against the government in the tunnel project on the Beard lot. According to the magazine, the company struck after having lost the housing project contract.

The Record says a meeting is to be held this week at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C., in an effort to iron out the difficulties.

PLAN FETE FOR RURAL YOUTHS

Approximately 100 Adams county youths, members of 4-H clubs and FFA units will be guests of the Hanover Chamber of Commerce at a Rural Youth day March 8 at the grange hall on Johns street, Hanover. The program will last from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Members of the Schriver's Corners, York Springs, Granite, New Oxford, Hampton, Barlow, Conewago, Littlestown, Brushtown, Pleasant-Joy and county baby beef and dairy calf clubs have been invited. Members of the clubs and their leaders who plan to be present are asked to notify Miss Mary Jane Mickey at the county agricultural extension office in the court house here by Saturday.

Members of the clubs who wish to compete for awards, are asked to fill out a 4-H achievement record to be studied by a committee of judges. The awards will be given at a dinner in connection with the Rural Youth Day. Allen Baker, State College extension specialist will be the speaker at the afternoon program. Tours of plants, movies, group singing, talks and awards are scheduled for the program.

FIREMEN OFFER $1,150 FOR JULY PARADE PRIZES

The Gettysburg Fire department will award $1,150 in parade prizes this year in connection with its observance of the 89th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, the general committee, headed by Donald W. McSherry, assistant fire chief, decided at a meeting at the fire engine house Tuesday night.

The parade will feature not only the battle anniversary, but will be held in connection with the observance of Independence Day, on July 4. Time of the parade was set for 3 o'clock. Letters inviting fire companies, clubs, fraternities and other organizations to participate, will be mailed in the near future.

The prizes will be awarded in three categories: the first, fire companies, apparatus, bands and drum corps; the second, floats, and the third, juvenile marching units. There will be two classifications for floats, Class A for those with a historical or appropriate Fourth of July motif, and Class B to be judged on beauty and originality.

SAIL FOR FRANCE

Mrs. Richard Nelson and son, Peter, sailed from New York this morning on the Queen Elizabeth for Cherbourg, France. They will be met by Mrs. Nelson's husband, Lt. Nelson, who is stationed at Frankfurt, Germany. Mrs. Nelson is the former Miss Jane Neely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Neely, Fairfield.

Lane Studio Is Observing Fifth Anniversary; Husband, Wife, Photographers, Navy Vets

Five years ago this month Walter B. Lane, a former Life and Time magazine laboratory technician and staff photographer, and his wife, the former Dorothy Janice Harbach, opened a portrait and commercial photography studio in Gettysburg. This week the Lane studio, 34 York street, observes its fifth anniversary.

On Saturday, the public is invited to visit the studio and see how pictures are made. The studio will be open to visitors from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Three prizes will be awarded. The first prize will be six 8 by 10 "fulltone" black and white pictures; second, three of these pictures, and third, a single photo.

Met Wife On Ship
Mr. Lane spent four years as a combat photographer with the United States Navy during World War II, and the establishment of his studio in Gettysburg stemmed directly from this war service. It was while he was assigned to the hospital ship, Solace, that he met a navy nurse, who later became his wife. She was a Gettysburg girl, and when, after their marriage, discharge from the service and a resumption of his work for Life, they decided to try it "on their own," they came to Gettysburg to locate their studio.

The couple left Washington, D. C., where Mr. Lane had been assigned by Life to cover the capital scene after the war, to establish their first

Truck, Car Collide On Narrow Bridge

An automobile owned by Glenn and Ethel Guise, 169 North Stratton street, and operated by their son, Richard D. Guise, 18, collided with a truck owned and operated by C. H. Hess, 57, of 15 Fifth street, shortly after 8 o'clock Tuesday night on the Mummasburg road, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation.

Police said Guise was driving toward Arendtsville and the truck was traveling toward Gettysburg. The accident occurred on a narrow bridge about three miles north of Gettysburg, they said. No one was injured. Damage to the car was estimated at $350 and to the truck at $300.

SCOUTS TO HELP TREE PLANTING IN THIS COUNTY

Plans for a tree planting conservation program by the Boy Scouts of the Black Walnut district were outlined Monday evening at a meeting of the district committee held at the office of the chairman, Attorney Edward B. Bullett, First National bank building.

William Smith, field director of the Boy Scouts for the York-Adams area, who is filling, temporarily, the vacancy caused by the resignation of David Dickson to join the Valley Forge area council, gave details of the tree-planting program.

R. C. QUOTAS ARE REVEALED AT RALLY TUESDAY

Quotas for Cashtown and Fairfield areas were outlined Tuesday evening at a meeting of Red Cross solicitors at the Franklin township consolidated school near Cashtown.

Cashtown area residents will be asked to donate $500 toward the $13,000 sought in the county by the Red Cross during its fund drive campaign starting March 1. The Fairfield area quota was announced as $650.

Edgar Dillon, district chairman, presided at the meeting. Harold Brown represented Mrs. William Newman, Fairfield chairman, at the meeting.

Chairman Dillon introduced John C. Stahl, county Red Cross fund drive chairman, and Maxwell Buckley, of the fund planning committee.

"The Red Cross Is You"
Both Buckley and Stahl stressed the theme "The Red Cross Is You" in outlining the work of the Red Cross during the last year. They thanked residents of the Cashtown-Fairfield area for their "splendid cooperation" with the Red Cross in many instances. In one case neighbors of a family in the area aided in the work of the Red Cross.

SEEK BLOOD DONORS

Gettysburg Aerie No. 1562, Fraternal Order of Eagles today appealed to its members whose blood is type A, to notify either Dr. Raymond F. Sheely or Horace L. Bender, secretary of the lodge, if they are willing to give blood to a member, Preston Peters, a patient in the Warner hospital.

Reds' Insistence That Russia Be Neutral Nation To Supervise Korean Truce Stalls Peace Talks

Seoul, Korea, Feb. 20 (AP)—U. S. Sabre jet pilots today shot down two Communist MIG-15 jets and damaged five in two furious fights over northwestern Korea.

Col. Francis S. Gabreski of Oil City, Pa., one of America's leading World War II aces, and Maj. William T. Whisner of 139 Archer avenue, Shreveport, La., shared credit for one MIG kill Wednesday afternoon.

Each moved to within half a plane of becoming five-MIG jet aces. Credit for the other MIG destroyed in the afternoon went to Maj. William F. Shaeffer, 309 S. Story street, Boone, Iowa. His total is three destroyed and one probable.

Two MIGs also were damaged in the afternoon clash between 25 Sabres and 70 Russian-built swept-wing craft over Sinuiju. The fight lasted 15 minutes.

Allied jet pilots damaged three MIGs in a morning battle. The U. S. Fifth Air Force said 26 F-86 Sabre jets clipped the MIGs in a seven-mile-high battle over Sinuiju. Seventy MIGs were spotted, but only eight were engaged.

The Sabres were screening F-84 Thunderjet fighter-bombers on a all cutting mission. Australian Meteor jet pilots said he destroyed eight Communist trucks and four large supply buildings west of Kaegu.

A bone-chilling wind swept the 155-mile ground front. No major action was reported.

CAMERA CLASS TONIGHT

The fourth session of the photographers' school being conducted in the science hall at Gettysburg college will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock with Paul G. Pralinger talking on "Spotting Prints" and Edward Stine discussing the mounting of prints. The school is being conducted by the Gettysburg Photographic society.

ARMY OFFICER, KOREAN VET, IS IN VALLEY FORGE

Major Fred Schumacher, Hanover street, has been returned to the United States from Korea and is now a patient at the Valley Forge military hospital for observation following an attack of pneumonia.

The local soldier, graduate of Gettysburg college and former football star, who served for more than nine years with the army, has completed a year and a half service in Korea as a U.S. officer with South Korean troops, and was on his way home on leave. He was stricken with pneumonia while in Japan and after hospitalization there, he was brought to the U.S. for convalescence and observation at Valley Forge.

Served In Europe

Principal reason, army officials said, for the long period of observation is the prevalence of tuberculosis among South Koreans, with whom Major Schumacher served for 18 months. However, all tests so far have shown that he has not contracted the disease despite the pneumonia.

Major Schumacher served in Europe during World War II, and participated in many engagements including the Battle of the Bulge. After World War II he served with the occupation forces and then returned to the U.S., serving with the ROTC at Lafayette college, Easton, Pa., for a time before being called for duty in Korea.

CARS COLLIDE

A collision between an automobile operated by C. H. Wiles, 60, of Toronto, Can., and another automobile, on the Harrisburg road two miles north of Heidlersburg Monday afternoon, resulted in $50 damage to the Canadian car, according to state police of the Gettysburg substation. Police did not have the name of the other driver. The right door on the Wiles car was damaged, they said.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Snyder, Emmitsburg, announce the birth of a daughter at the Warner hospital today.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harner, Littlestown R. 2, at the hospital today.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sells, Westminster R. 1, announce the birth of a daughter Tuesday at the hospital.

OBTAIN LICENSE

Marriage licenses have been secured in Frederick by Terrence C. Taylor and Shirley E. Wagaman, York Springs, and Russell J. Willard, Thurmont, and Ethel Hess Wetzel, Emmitsburg.

Munsan, Korea, Feb. 20 (AP)— Communist insistence that Russia be invited as a neutral nation to help supervise a Korean truce stalled armistice talks today.

The Allies offered "in the interest of progress" to pare their troop rotation figure from 40,000 monthly to 35,000. But the Reds would not even talk about it.

No specific progress was reported from another truce meeting on prisoners of war. And no date was set for a third committee of staff officers to work out technicalities on the final truce clause—recommendations to governments.

Call Russia "Neutral"

Red negotiators were insistent that the Soviet Union be the third "neutral" nation nominated by the Communists. The United Nations command already has approved Poland and Czechoslovakia.

U. N. negotiators refused to indulge in a debate on the neutrality of Russia in the Korean conflict despite repeated Red hints they would like such an argument.

The Allies said simply that Russia, as sponsor of Red Korea and Communist China, was "not acceptable" as a neutral supervisor.

Col. Andrew Kinney said the Red nomination of Russia was not "acceptable to both sides" as called for in previous agreements. He said the Communist stand "is in direct violation of the agreement reached between the delegates and in violation of the instructions given to the staff meetings."

Called Oral Agreement

Communist staff officers insisted the nomination was "fully consistent with the agreed principles of the nomination of neutral nations" and did not need Allied approval.

The Reds said the proposed draft for selecting neutrals did not specifically mention that both sides must approve. That agreement was oral.

The draft provides merely that neutral nations must not have contributed combatant forces in the Korean war.

No mention was made of the fact that Red air forces in Korea are supplied exclusively with Russian-type planes, or that their ground forces use Russian-type anti-aircraft guns, artillery, tanks and other equipment, or that the North Korean army was Russian trained and advised.

North Korean Col. Chang Chunsan insisted there was "no reason" why the U. N. command should object to the Soviet Union.

MISSION GROUP OBSERVES ITS 40TH BIRTHDAY

Three charter members were present at the 40th anniversary meeting of the Women's Missionary Guild of the St. James Lutheran church in the intermediate room of the church Tuesday evening. They were Mrs. W. H. Stout, Mrs. Ethel Weaver Dickert and Miss Maude Bream. Charter members unable to be present sent letters of greeting. Miss Lou Etta Sharratts gave the roll call of the original 13 members.

Mrs. A. A. Maust, president of the Guild, presided at the affair, attended by about 85 members and guests. Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh gave a talk on the men and women who had been sent from St. James church as missionaries during recent years.

Missionaries Present

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Arnold, who had lived in Africa as missionaries in 1912, were present. Rev. Arnold discussed the hazards experienced by missionaries in the jungles during those early days. Mrs. Arnold is the former Miss Flo Blocher of Gettysburg.

Preliminary activities in connection with Upper Adams county's participation in the annual Red Cross drive got underway Tuesday night with the showing of a Red Cross film to the members of the Upper Adams Lions club.

Quotas were announced for the three districts. The amount to be asked of the Biglerville, Guernsey, Center Mills district is $1,250; for the Arendtsville, Mummasburg, Brysonia district, $400, and for the Bendersville, Gardners, Wecksville and Idaville area, $550. The quotas are based on population and industrial activity in comparison with the county-wide quota of $13,000.

With many of the members participating in the drive, it was felt that the information given by the film would take the place of a formal rally for solicitors in the Biglerville-Arendtsville area and give details of the Red Cross activities to that group of community leaders.

District 13, Arendtsville, today announced selection of most of the solicitors for that area, while chairmen in Biglerville and Bendersville said their lists of persons to make the house to house canvass in their areas would be completed probably within the next few days.

Arendtsville Workers
Charles Bushey, District 13 chairman, and David Bushman, vice chairman, announced as canvassers for Arendtsville, Mrs. Joseph Sabo, Miss Gretta Black, Mrs. Glenn A. Bream, Mrs. Marion Culp, Miss Ruth Myers, Mrs. Clair Hikes, Mrs. Guy Herring, Mrs. Cameron Thomas and Miss Sue Harper. Listed as solicitors for Berchertown and surrounding areas were Mrs. Earl Staub, Mrs. Wilda MacBeth, Mrs. Mildred MacBeth, Edward Staub, Mrs. Russell Barbour, Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Richard Trostle, Mrs. Marshall Longenecker, Mrs. Warren Bushey, Miss Myrtle Raffensperger, Miss Elsie Miller, Miss Fern Hartzell, Luther Lady, William Jacobs, Mrs. Richard Musselman and Mrs. George Bowling.

Mr. Bushey added that "three or four" additional solicitors for the area will be added before the annual campaign for funds begins March 1. Harry Geiselman is chairman of the Biglerville district and Roland Kime is chairman for the Bendersville area. Both have about completed the organization of canvassers for their areas.

3 From St. Joseph Attend Conference

Dr. Annabelle M. Melville, moderator of the International Relations club, Mary Janet Burkett and Marie Paul Melroy, of Saint Joseph college, Emmitsburg, participated in the student conference on foreign policy of the United States in the Middle East, sponsored on Saturday by the IFC of Notre Dame of Maryland and Baltimore. Delegates from 23 colleges attended.

After an address by Dr. Edwin Wright, chief of staff of the Middle Eastern division of the State Department, three panels were formed to discuss the political, diplomatic and economic aspects of the problems. Miss Burkett acted as secretary of the economic panel. Emphasis was placed on the currently important Iranian oil disputes, as well as the problems of British intervention in the Suez Canal area and the Arab-Zionist problem in Palestine. The conference closed with a summary of the panels and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

FIREMEN OFFER MAY ORGANIZE TWILIGHT LOOP

An attempted reorganization of the Adams county baseball league as a twilight loop will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Albert J. Lentz American Legion home, Baltimore street.

John Wetzel, Orrtanna, secretary of the league, said that invitations have been sent to New Oxford, Littlestown, Fairfield, Arendtsville, Orrtanna and Emmitsburg clubs, which constituted the league when it last operated in 1950. He added that all other interested teams are asked to attend Thursday's meeting.

The league did not operate a schedule during 1950 because of a number of conflicts. Previously it had operated on Saturday afternoons, but the clubs felt that a Saturday schedule could not be worked out last year. Discussion held at that time indicated that a Sunday schedule was also out of the question.

This year the league hopes to return with an eight-team circuit, if possible, playing two nights a week on a twilight schedule.

Thirteen different varieties of trees are available under the program, Smith said.

Reports were presented on the work of the Gettysburg college Boy Scout fraternity in providing community service for troops in the Gettysburg area. Much of the work of the members of the fraternity, all of them former or present Boy Scouts, has been with the AME Zion troop, according to the reports presented Monday.

Harrisburg, Feb. 20 (AP) — The state may invoke broad punitive powers, including possible jailing of local officials, in cases where communities refuse to comply with the state's clean streams law.

Penalty provisions of the anti-pollution law also include the right to levy a fine of $500 and succeeding amount of $50 a day against communities defying board orders.

In another case, the interest of a service station attendant in a serviceman whose car ran out of gasoline in the area and who informed the Red Cross, permitted the county Red Cross to make a loan to the soldier so he could continue on his way.

Bucklew pointed out: "The Red Cross is your organization, designed to serve you. Your interest in it, your participation in letting the Red Cross know of needs will help it to serve you even more in the future than it has in the past."

Warriors Handed 56-38 Jolt By Hanover In League Game

Hanover high dished out the fifth straight defeat to the Gettysburg high dribblers 56-38 in a South Penn league game played Tuesday night on the Nighthawks' court.

Paced by Stremmel, Hart and Reese, Hanover got a flying 15-6 start in the first period and led by a comfortable margin thereafter. The Warriors' points in the first period came on goals by Captain Jack Bream, Jim Skinner and Skip Fisel.

A 12-point second quarter by Fisel on five goals and a pair of fouls helped shave the Nighthawks lead to 27-20 at half time. The only other points for Gettysburg in the second stanza came on a goal by Bream.

Hanover built up a fool-proof margin in the third period when Soapy Hart, leading scorer for the evening, landed four goals. John Carter picked up six points for the local cause and going into the last period frame Hanover led 44-31.

Substitutes from both benches performed a great part of the last period with Hanover easily maintaining its margin largely due to ineffective foul shooting by Gettysburg who netted but one of 16 tries. The Warriors netted only six of 24 free tosses all evening.

Ross Sachs' jayvees trailed all the way in dropping the preliminary game 46-27.

The Warriors will finish their home season here Friday evening when Mechanicsburg will meet their opponents.

SAYS DODGERS' FATE DEPENDS UPON TWIRLERS

(This is a story of the 1952 prospects of the Brooklyn Dodgers written by Manager Charlie Dressen for the Associated Press.)

By CHARLIE DRESSEN
Orinda, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP) — Where the Dodgers will finish in 1952 depends upon whether we can get a pitcher or two to fill Don Newcombe's shoes. That, of course, depends whether Newcombe goes into the service.

To this end, we are bringing up about 10 of the best pitchers in our organization. If two out of the ten pitch on the Brooklyn club, we will be in good shape. In the group will be such fine youngsters as Bob Alexander, Ben Wade, Joe Black, John Rutherford and Mal Mallette.

Strong Everywhere

The rest of the club will be about the same as last year. I think we are strong in every department. Where can you find better men than Gil Hodges, Jackie Robinson, Pee Wee Reese and Billy Cox in our infield; Roy Campanella behind the plate; and Carl Furillo, Duke Snider and Andy Pafko in the outfield.

One of the reasons for our failure to win the pennant last year was that some of the boys fell off in their hitting in September. Some of them got tired and I made the mistake of not resting them so that they would be fit and ready to fight off the great closing surge of the Giants.

I think we will have more reserve strength this year with shortstop Rocky Bridges, catcher Wal Walker and second baseman Wayne Terwilliger right from the start.

The Big Four

I think the Giants will give us the most trouble although they may be hurt by the loss of Willie Mays to the service and the absence of Eddie Stanky. It is going to be a difficult job to fill Stanky's shoes. I can tell you that.

Philadelphia has improved their club and if Curt Simmons should get out of the Army, the Phils should win a lot of those games they lost last year. Boston, I have been told, has the best pitching in the league. It all depends upon how well their infield holds up. I am not familiar with St. Louis but the Cards played some fine ball toward the end of the 1951 season. If I knew what Stanky was going to do in the way of playing, I could say more. Anyway, it should be a great race.

We have the hitting, the fielding and the speed. It all depends upon our pitchers. Right now it looks as if Preacher Roe, Carl Erskine, Ralph Branca and Clem Labine will be our big four. That's not a bad big four, is it?

DELONE OUSTED IN LOOP RACE

Delone Catholic high was eliminated as a contender for the second half of the Central Penn Catholic basketball league honors when it dropped a thrilling 52-49 decision to Lebanon Catholic Tuesday evening on the Squires' floor.

The Squires turned on a big rally in the final period and three straight goals cut Lebanon's margin to 50-49 before the Beavers added a pair of points in the fading seconds.

Delone's reserves won the opening game 42-36.

On Friday Delone plays at Lancaster.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20 (AP) — Philadelphia Fight Promoter Herman Taylor plans to confer with Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, in Miami in an effort to bring the Joe Walcott-Ezzard Charles heavyweight title bout to Philadelphia.

Taylor said yesterday that he has a date to talk the matter over with Norris on Friday. Either the Philadelphia Municipal stadium or Shibe Park could be used for meeting in June, Taylor said.

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — The National Basketball tournament has one fourth of its field lined up today for its 14th annual frolic which opens with an unprecedented triple header on March 8.

Three eastern powerhouses, unbeaten Duquesne (18-0), St. John's of Brooklyn (19-2) and St. Bonaventure (18-2) accepted bids to compete yesterday in the 12 team tournament.

Teams under consideration for the remaining berths include Kentucky, Seton Hall, Dayton, Duke, Holy Cross, Penn State, St. Louis, LaSalle, Texas Christian, Western Kentucky, Wyoming, West Virginia and New York University.

The Littlestown National bank, the Littlestown State bank and the state liquor store will be closed all day on Friday, a legal holiday, in observance of Washington's birthday. The regular hours will be held at these places on Thursday.

SCHOOLS WATCH IVY LEAGUE BAN

New York, Feb. 20 (AP) — The big conferences and powerful independents were looking carefully in all directions and stepping cautiously today as a result of the Ivy league ban on spring football practice.

The American Council on Education two weeks ago drew up a drastic—drastic, according to what many of the colleges have been doing—program to place sports in their proper niche in the academic world.

The Ivies thus became the first group to do something about the A. C. E. program. Actually, Yale banned spring football months ago, and at that time, even the Eli's Ivy

Two big surprises took place in the Adams County Basketball league Tuesday night when the regular league season ended.

East Berlin, who had previously clinched its second straight title, was handed its first loss setback by New Oxford 52-48 on the East Berlin floor. Marty Flegel's New Oxford team trailed by a 45-34 margin going into the final frame before exploding for 18 points to snatch victory. Dean Nace sparking the rally. New Oxford also won the preliminary 36-25.

The victory-starved Littlestown team crashed into the win column for the first time by walloping Newville at Littlestown 59-28. Bob Kooniz and Pottoff were the big guns for Clay Evans' Thunderbolts and between them netted 38 points. The win halted a 16-game losing streak for Littlestown. The 'Bolts reserves also won the opening game 60-34.

Boiling Springs high turned back Biglerville 52-39 on the Canner floor to put Biglerville and York Springs in a tie for fourth place. Biglerville's reserves won the first game 29-26.

Playoff Here

As a result of the fourth place tie arrangements have been made to have York Springs and Biglerville play on the Gettysburg college floor Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in order to determine which team will take part in the loop's Shaughnessy playoffs.

Announcement was also made today of the league's playoffs, originally listed for Friday, have been put back until Saturday. The top four teams will play at Biglerville Saturday in the semi-finals with the finals at the same place next Tuesday.

league brothers seemed in no mood to go along.

Reaves E. Peters, executive secretary of the Big Seven, sounded what seems to be the keynote when he said: "We still are operating under NCAA rules. I don't think most conferences know exactly where they are going."

The new NCAA rules say that a school can hold only 20 spring practice sessions within 30 days. Other Big Seven officials said the conference probably would follow the others.

Bullets Rout Dickinson 68-51 For 11th Victory

"Hen" Bream's Gettysburg college basketball team won their fourth straight victory for an 11-6 record by defeating Dickinson 68-51 in a loosely played game at Carlisle Tuesday night.

Gene Coder and Bob Pizolato missed the entire game due to illness with Tom Ketterman and Mike Resanovich receiving their starting places.

Dickinson, still looking for its initial win of the season, after 14 losses, gave the Bullets stiff opposition during the first half, taking a 5-3 lead early in the opening period which ended at 14-11.

Gettysburg was way off in its shooting throughout the entire game and in particular during the first half but left the floor with a 34-25 half-time advantage due to a late surge on two fouls by Ketterman, a pair of goals by George Hare and a single goal by Johnny Habeeb.

Dickinson spurted midway in the third frame to cut Gettysburg's lead to 39-33 but four straight goals at the end of the frame by Watson, two by Keller and another by Hare gave the Bullets a commanding 52-35 lead after which the outcome was not in doubt.

The unbeaten Bullets reserves overcame a 26-23 deficit at half time to record their fourth straight victory in the preliminary game 69-51.

The Bullet varsity played at Mt. St. Mary's Thursday night and at Bucknell on Saturday.

The York Springs high school basketball teams divided a pair of games with Quincy on the latter's floor Tuesday night, the boys bowing 39-36 while the girls triumphed 48-26.

Pete Kemper's boys led 24-23 going into the final period when Quincy rallied to win, peeling pace the Springers with 19 tallies.

Led by Caroline Snyder who hit the cords for 24 points, the York Springs girls closed a 10-game season with their seventh victory in the preliminary affair.

The York Springs boys will meet Biglerville on the Gettysburg college court Thursday at 8 p.m. to decide which team will take part in the Adams County league playoffs.

JR. HI UPSETS CANNER CAGERS

Gettysburg junior high added its fifth victory of the season here Tuesday night by crushing Biglerville 46-16.

Displaying fine all-around work, Coach Herr's lads roared off to a 18-2 lead in the first period and breezed through handily. Crouse put up a nice game for the winners.

The local jayvees capped the preliminary affair 23-12. Crist was an outstanding performer for Gettysburg.

Tonight Gettysburg plays at Hanover while Biglerville plays at West York Thursday.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Worst Snow Storm of Year: With nine crews keeping a constant vigil, the primary roads of Adams county were kept open to traffic during the storm of Saturday and Sunday, according to W. B. Fleming, superintendent of maintenance of the state highway department office here.

Eighteen men manning nine plows waged a constant battle against the snow and drifts which were piled up in some places to four feet, stopping only for a few hours sleep.

Couple Married: Miss Mildred Kessel, Gettysburg, R. 10, became the bride of Elson D. Guise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Guise, Stone Jug Hill, Thursday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Murray E. Ness, pastor of the Reformed church of Arendtsville.

Entertainers at Tea: Mrs. A. R. Wentz gave a tea at her home on Springs avenue Monday afternoon to introduce Mrs. John Aberly and Mrs. H. D. Hoover with their husbands have become members of the Gettysburg Theological seminary family within the past few months. Mrs. Luther Kuhlman also had a place in the receiving line. Valentine decorations were used. Mrs. Wentz's assistants included Mrs. Herbert C. Allen, Mrs. S. F. Dunkelberger, Mrs. M. Hadwin Fischer, Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Mrs. J. E. Musselman and Mrs. C. B. Stover.

Directors Elect County Officers: H. S. Reigle, McSherrytown, was elected president of the Adams county school directors' association at the closing session of a two-day convention here Friday afternoon. He succeeds Abram C. Keefer.

Other officers chosen were: A. B. Plank, first vice president; Hugh M. McIlhenny, second vice president; J. R. Hartman, secretary; I. C. Bucher, treasurer; C. E. Kuhn, auditor; D. B. Harlach and George M. Hoffman, delegates to the state convention and Dr. Eugene Elain and George McDonnell, alternates.

The thirty-sixth annual convention was the most successful in recent years. W. Raymond Shank, county superintendent of schools, said.

Speakers at the Friday afternoon session were Dr. Lee L. Driver, department of public instruction, and Dr. L. H. Beeler, Grove City college.

Eddie Crist Entertains: Master Eddie Crist, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Crist, celebrated his birthday anniversary Friday by taking the boys and girls of the fifth grade at Meade school to the Blue Parrot tea room where they were treated to ice cream and cake. Miss Bess K. Raffensperger, Miss Helen Culp, Miss Verna Waybright, Miss Annie Major and Lloyd Shetter, teachers at the Meade building, were also among the guests.

Attend Fraternity Jubilee: Kenneth Ivory and Henry Hanson, Jr., have returned from Philadelphia, where they attended the Diamond Jubilee of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity held Saturday at the Union League club. Colonel William S. Mitchell, former head of the air service, was the chief speaker of the meeting.

One of Triplets Dies Saturday: Death Saturday evening at 9:30 o'clock claimed Jack Hartzell Sachs, oldest of triplets born Friday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Luther I. Sachs, Hanover street. Valvular heart disease caused the infant's death.

During Saturday afternoon the Rev. Earl J. Bowman performed the baptismal service for the triplets, christening the two boys Jack Hartzell Sachs and Luther I. Sachs, Jr. The girl was christened Janice Elizabeth Sachs.

Get Marriage License: A marriage license was issued at Hagerstown Friday to John E. Plank, Gettysburg, and Hazel I. Dick, Waynesboro.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ACKNOWLEDGMENT TO GOD
I witnessed a most unusual sight on my TV set recently. Probably unique. I was viewing a boxing contest, as thousands of others were in their homes, as well as those in a crowded hall. Immediately upon being declared the winner, the successful contestant knelt on his knees in his corner and offered a brief silent prayer before the great audience and his handlers! It was an inspiring sight. He was proud to thank God for his victory, for which he had probably prayed.

I have been thinking a great deal of that strange incident and the thought came to me that that was a perfectly natural act for a man who has faith in his heart. We pray to God for success in an enterprise, and if we are successful we are happy, but how often we fail then to thank God for our victory. It seems to me we should give thanks always when our prayer seems to be answered, and even when it isn't immediately answered we are the richer anyway, as Stevenson once said.

Prayer is always a preparation. If we place ourselves in the right attitude of mind to receive a blessing, that blessing will result somehow, though it may temporarily be delayed. Prayer is to get us ready, even to face failure with a high heart and with courage. But when our prayer is answered why should we put off for an instant thanking God from a full heart?

Many years ago, while I was sitting in a dentist's chair, the Doctor told me of an incident that occurred with a friend of his who was very ill, and even death was expected, so he made the promise that if God would only allow him to live he would do a certain thing. Well, he got well—and then repudiated his promise! Even God expects us to keep our promises to Him.

We pray for a great many things, and many of these prayers of ours are answered, often in larger measure than we expected, yet we are so negligent about acknowledging our gratitude to God for His mercies. Even though we receive blessings for which we have not prayed, how enriching it can be for us to thank God for them anyway!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Goodwill."

ers of our country were religious and wise men who wanted to make sure that no one denomination ever got control over our government. But they never intended that our citizens should put aside their religion and their religious convictions as soon as they became office holders!

We all have often heard and read that part of George Washington's farewell address in which he spoke of entangling alliances. But since most of us unfortunately are satisfied with extracts and digests, only few know what else he said to his listeners on that occasion. Especially appropriate for us today were these other words of his: "Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports. Reason and experience both forbid us to expect that natural morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principles."

God Versus Tyrants
Long before Washington's time, that practical, shrewd, hard-headed businessman and politician, William Penn, the founder of Pennsylvania, had said along similar lines: "Those people who are not governed by God will be ruled by tyrants." And since Washington's day, every single state in the Union except one has written into its state constitution a reference to God and the moral law. In a famous decision of 1892, indeed, the United States Supreme Court unequivocally declared: "This is a Christian nation."

Compare with these historical and traditional American sentiments the mockery of this viewpoint expressed by Karl Marx: "The democratic concept of man is false, because it is Christian. The democratic concept holds that each man is a sovereign being. This is the illusion, dream, and postulate of Christianity."

If there be men on Mars, and if one of these men could pick up and read any issue of a daily newspaper, what impression would he get of this world's concept of morality? Would he get the impression that the world, by and large, lives by the moral law of Christianity? Or would it appear to him that ma-

Forget Old Virtues

While much of today's leadership seems far more interested in personal publicity, mass votes, and the wielding of power than in living a Godly life, millions of people seem quite ready to accept and follow this leadership. In return for the promise of a politically-guaranteed economic security doled out by government bureaus, many people seem willing to forget all about the old-fashioned virtues of their ancestors, virtues which made America strong. For the welfare state, in essence, is a bureaucratic government selling the security of a full stomach for the price of initiative, self-reliance, and moral freedom.

There is much talk everywhere today about the obligation of a state to take care of its citizens "from the cradle to the grave," that is, to relieve Christians of their duty to help their fellow-men. Some of this talk is jocular, but most of it is serious. For thousands of years, Cain has been held up as a symbol of evil for claiming not to be his brother's keeper. And yet the fashion today is for men to shift to the government the moral obligation that every Christian has, to help his neighbor in distress. More and more the idea is spreading—and this spread is encouraged by government policy—that society through government owes everyone a comfortable living. From this it follows naturally that many should be willing to let someone else pay this supposed debt either to them or to their neighbor. They would substitute bureaucracy for compassion!

State Worshipers

Unhappily, there seems to be little realization or understanding of the fact that human beings who are beholden to the state for everything they have, are bound to end by worshipping that state instead of worshipping God. In other words, they are bound to end by defying government and seeking guidance from power-loving bureaucrats. Instead of seeking security through the development of a society of virtuous God-fearing citizens, they are coming to rely more and more for security on the very type of institution which throughout history has proved to be unstable and transitory.

Some, indeed, already have gone so far in their adoration of government that they think government can make men good. These misguided individuals believe that when men have enough to eat, clothes to wear, free entertainment, and old-age insurance, they will be happy and free. This is a grievous error. Government may forcibly correct some of the evils which wicked men can bring upon their neighbors. But no human government has yet been devised that can make men good. (Please Turn to Page 6)

ACCOMPANY PIE BAKING CHAMP TO CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. John Peters, Gardeners R. 1, left Tuesday evening for Chicago. They are accompanying Miss Leah Witmer, Boiling Springs high school student who won the state cherry pie baking contest, and Mrs. Malone, home economics teacher at Boiling Springs, to Chicago for the national cherry pie baking contest.

Mr. Peters will represent the Pennsylvania Cherry Growers at the national event in which champion pie bakers from 47 states will take part.

Miss Witmer will compete first in a Middle Atlantic regional contest at Chicago. Four regional contests are being held for the 47 contestants. The winners of the regional contests will receive awards of $75 each and then will take part in the finals for the national champion.

Gives Pie To Governor
The national champion will win $150, a trip to Washington and New York city, and the stove on which she wins the title.

Pennsylvania's champion Monday presented a pie to Governor John S. Pyle at Harrisburg. She was accompanied to the office of Governor Pyle by Thomas Oyler, Gettysburg R. 3, president of the state cherry growers' association; Dr. A. Pauline Sanders, head of home economics for the state; Miss Margaret Brant, Cumberland-Adams supervisor of home economics; Mrs. Malone, Dr. Paul Burkhardt, superintendent of the Cumberland county schools, and Mr. Stover, principal of the Boiling Springs high school.

Governor Pyle told Miss Witmer he would have the pie for lunch and urged her to come back with another pie after winning the national contest.

BRUCE WETZEL IS RE-ELECTED AT CASHTOWN

R. Bruce Wetzel, Biglerville R. 2, was re-elected president of the Cashtown Community Fire department for a third term Tuesday evening at a meeting of the company held at its hall in Cashtown.

Other officers named at the meeting included: Vice President, Kenneth Kane; secretary, Clarence D. Deardorff, who was renamed for the tenth consecutive year; financial secretary, Melvin J. Kane, also re-elected; treasurer, Harry F. Biesecker; trustee for three years, Seymour Kuykendall; chaplain, Merle Brewbaker; fire chief, Owen H. Bucher, and assistant fire chief, Eugene Kane. The fire chief and assistant chief were both re-elected to their offices.

George A. Carbaugh, who had served as treasurer for 20 consecutive years, asked to be relieved of the duties this year and Mr. Biesecker was named to the post. President Wetzel expressed the appreciation of the fire department for "Mr. Carbaugh's faithful and efficient service during the last two decades." The department voted Mr. Carbaugh a life membership in appreciation of his services.

Reports presented by President Wetzel and others indicated that the recent fair held by the company was the most successful ever held by the department. Gross receipts were listed as $5,138.22 as compared to $5,004.29 in 1949, the previous high in receipts. In 1951 the fair's gross receipts were $4,824.89 and in 1950, $4,798.62.

President Wetzel expressed his thanks to all members of the fire department and auxiliary and others for "the splendid support given to the fair this year."

School Employees Take New Oath

The 63 employees of the Upper Adams joint school system Friday affirmed their signatures to the loyalty oath at "loyalty-day" programs held at Biglerville, Bendersville and Ardenstville.

Justice of the Peace Martin T. Walter conducted the oath-taking at Ardenstville; Dale Crum at Bendersville, and Roy Martin at Biglerville. Teachers and other employees attended the "swearing" at the most convenient of the three centers.

Select Best Trees—Growers of Christmas trees prefer some evergreens over others, according to Walter Simonds, extension forester of the Pennsylvania State college. Scotch pine, the No. 1 choice, grows in nearly any kind of soil. Norway spruce is No. 2, prefers moist to medium dry soil. Douglas fir, No. 3, likes well-drained soil.

Manage Lambs Well—The producer of early lambs has his problems, but Thomas King, Penn State extension livestock specialist, says that bad luck during lambing season is all too often the result of poor management and lack of preparation.

FARM CALENDAR

Gather Eggs Often—Eggs that are to be used for hatching should be gathered three to five times a day, say extension poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State college. That means as often as possible when the weather is either extremely cold or quite warm. Overheating and overchilling quickly ruin the chances of hatching well.

Produce Good Beef—Tests at the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment station show that beef animals kept off feed for at least 24 hours make better carcasses than animals allowed feed right up to the time of slaughter. The fasted animals bleed out more thoroughly, are easier to dress, and the carcasses are brighter in appearance.

Handle Plants Carefully—When vegetable seedlings are transplanted from one flat to another, they must be handled carefully to avoid injury, reminds Robert Fletcher, Penn State extension vegetable specialist. Always grasp the tender plants by the leaves.

First in America—When the Sixth International Grassland Congress is held at the Pennsylvania State college August 17 to 23, it will mark the first time for this event in the United States.

Potatoes Are Scarce—The national stockpile of potatoes held by growers and local dealers, as of January 1, amounted to about 97 million bushels, reports Robert Donaldson, Penn State extension marketing specialist. That is 40 percent smaller than the quantity of potatoes held a year earlier. Supplies are not excessive in any section.

Eradicate Disease—Everyone who uses milk, or who produces milk, has an interest in the current program to stamp out brucellosis. Robert Olmstead, Penn State extension dairy specialist, believes that there is no question that the job can be done. It is more a matter of how quickly eradication can be accomplished.

Oil Milking Machine—Three or four times a year the crankcase of the milking machine should be given care, reminds Ivan Parkin, extension dairy specialist of the Pennsylvania State college. The crankcase ought to be drained, flushed out with kerosene, and oil recommended by the manufacturer put in to the proper level.

YOUR FIRST FIELD TEST WILL CONVINCE YOU . . . THERE'S MORE POWER IN A MASSEY-HARRIS

● The real test of a tractor's worth is how it performs in the field. That's where the best machine shows its heels to the pack . . . that's where you'll see and prove the difference in a Massey-Harris.

Climb up on the roomy platform, check the comfortable seat, the visibility and the handy controls. Press the automatic starter and feel the pep in the 4-cylinder, super-powered engine. Swing into your field and see how easily it handles routine work . . . how quickly it responds with extra lugging power when you hit a tough spot! Try it on a heavy belt job too. Once you have, you'll agree, "There's more power in a Massey-Harris."

Lane Studio

studio has more than 2,500 feet of floor space, and the basement provides an additional 1,200 feet.
Have Production 1-5
Modern equipment includes electronic speed lamps in the two studios, one of which is for infants and children only. These ultra fast lamps catch the fleeting expressions so hard to photograph in children with slower lighting effects. Modern "spotlights," cameras, backdrops, dressing room, and laboratory equip the Lanes for providing the best in every kind of photography.
The laboratory, in the basement, is arranged on a "production line" basis, so that the work goes smoothly through all of its stages from picture-taking to the finished product. The office and picture-framing department are located back of the studio. Customers can make a choice from 160 types and styles of picture moulding.
Inter-Comm Systems
In this latter department are made all the "props" for the famous Lane window displays, which follow the seasons, important holidays and other events.
The studios and laboratory have asphalt tile floors, recessed lighting and an inter-communicating system which saves many steps for Mr. and Mrs. Lane and the staff.
Mrs. Lane, the former navy nurse, became interested in her husband's profession shortly after they were married, and now does much of the portrait work and the photographs-in-oil which have attracted nationwide attention. Mr. Lane "did" the oil coloring of the photographs of the stained glass windows at the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary. The photos were made into a book which found wide circulation in this and other countries.
Variety of Work
The portrait work includes babies, children and adults; wedding groups, both "portraits" and "candid album" pictures. The studio also makes recordings of weddings and receptions, for home playing.
Commercial work, handled by Mr. Lane, includes industrial illustrations, publicity work, wrecked automobiles, high school and college yearbook photographs and college "view books."
The studio is also equipped to restore old photographs, make photo-stats and provide in quantity many types of post cards. It makes enlargements for murals, lantern slides and 16 mm. industrial movies, such as the story of cherry growing in Adams county, filmed for the Knease Food Cooperative of Peach Glen.
Staff Of Six
Thomas Cole was the first employee of the Lane Studio, starting work as a part-time helper shortly after the original studio was opened five years ago. Miss Ann Stock, receptionist, now Mrs. Ann Nowak, joined the staff in July, 1947. They are still with the Lanes. Mr. Cole is now studio assistant. Others of the present staff include Miss Virginia Fox, studio assistant, and Miss Jean Smith, technician. The studio has more than 19,000 negatives on file.
Photographer 21 years
Mr. Lane was born in Jersey City, N. J., in 1913; attended public schools in that city, the Lincoln high school and the Dickinson evening high school, also of Jersey City. The fifth anniversary of The Lane Studio marks his 21st year in photography. He worked in commercial and portrait studios in New York city, on commercial, industrial and fashion work, and he was also employed in motion pictures as "title cameraman," originating many of the "trick" effects so often seen in movies.
He joined Life magazine in 1938 as a photo technician and a year and a half later became staff photographer. For him the war began long before he enlisted in the navy, and before the United States had entered World War II. Life assigned him to get a photo essay on American troops and living conditions in the new U. S. bases in Iceland, and this turned out to be what Mr. Lane terms his most exciting assignment.
Joins U. S. Navy
German U-boats were roaming the north Atlantic almost at will, and the convoy to which Mr. Lane's freighter was assigned was badly shot up. This was the summer before Pearl Harbor. Mr. Lane's ship was not hit. When war came, Mr. Lane decided to "join up."
"I didn't get seasick in the north Atlantic," he says. "That made me think that I would make a good sailor, so I enlisted in the navy."
He obtained a leave of absence from Life for what was going to be one year, but which lengthened into four, and was assigned immediately to duty on Bora-Bora, in the Society Islands, South Pacific. As the war in the Pacific progressed, he was on roving assignment, under navy orders signed by former Secretary of Navy Frank Knox, "to photograph the war in its various phases."
Made 10,000 Photos
Mr. Lane served under Admiral Robert L. Ghormley, Admiral William F. Halsey and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz. He estimates that he "took" at least 10,000 pictures for the navy, many of which were published with the credit line, "U. S. Navy Photo."
Miss Harbach, a navy nurse commissioned as an ensign, was on the "Solace" when Mr. Lane was assigned to this ship to take pictures. She was an operating room nurse, and they met. The ship was ordered back to New Zealand, and Mr. Lane was directed to return to the United States, after being gone two and a half years. He and Miss Harbach agreed to keep in touch with each other. Almost at the same time, the "Solace" was ordered back to the States, and four weeks after they had parted in New Zealand Mr. Lane and Miss Harbach met again, in Gettysburg.

Modern facilities help make the Lane Studio, 34 York street, Gettysburg, one of the best portrait and commercial photography establishments in Pennsylvania. The top photograph shows a corner of the tastefully furnished and decorated reception room, with examples of the studio's work displayed on tables and cabinets. The picture in the center is of a section of the processing laboratory, showing, to the left, the trays in which negatives and prints are developed and washed, under special lights, and at right, one of the enlarging cameras used in the business. The lower photograph shows a view of the room where the retouching and mounting is done. Driers occupy space at the left. At the rear of the picture are film and print files, supplies and other equipment. (Photos by The Lane Studio)

Mr. Lane was ordered to Pensacola, Fla., and Miss Harbach to St. Albans, Long Island. They corresponded, and decided to get married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox in Trinity Evangelical Reformed church here on April 4, 1944. Mr. Lane was still in the navy, but his bride had been given her release to be married. After the wedding, they went to San Francisco, where Mr. Lane was assigned to set up an aerial photography training program for flyers. He was later transferred to Jacksonville, Fla., for a similar program for B-24's. While in San Francisco and later at Jacksonville, he did several picture stories for the navy.
Served On Carrier
More sea duty followed these assignments, and Mr. Lane was on a carrier for two months and participated in the Okinawa action, and the air support of the landings, as photo officer. He was on Admiral Nimitz' staff when the war ended, readying for the invasion of Japan. His long service gave him more than enough "points" for his discharge, and he came home again, after seeing the start of World War II in the Pacific Atlantic and its finish in the Pacific. The next 15 months were spent at his old job with Life in Chicago and Washington, D. C., before he and his wife decided on the Gettysburg venture.
Mrs. Lane was born in Gettysburg in 1919. Her parents were Harrison Franklin and Marguerite Nevada Harbach. She attended local schools, graduated from the Gettysburg high school in 1937, and was president of her class at the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania, where she graduated in 1940.

Among the most outstanding of Mr. Lane's war pictures was one of a group of Japanese prisoners, standing on Guam, with bowed heads, some with tears streaming from their eyes, as they listened to Hirohito broadcast the defeat of the Japanese empire and the loss, to them, of the war. This picture appeared as the cover of "U. S. Camera," in 1940.
Is Radio "Ham"
Life used Mr. Lane's picture of Lord Louis Mountbatten on its cover on September 15, 1941. The picture was taken on the flight deck of the "Illustrious." Mr. Lane was the only member of Life's staff to have his pictures selected two weeks in succession as the "picture of the week." He was one of the few ever to take pictures of Eisler, the Communist.
Mr. Lane is a charter member of the National Press Photographers association, the White House News Photographers association, and the Professional Photographers Association of America.
He is a radio enthusiast, and "ham" operator of an amateur short wave station, which is now part of the civil defense setup. He and Mrs. Lane have two children, William Harrison Lane and James Dundas Lane.
Washington, Feb. 20 (AP) — The army said Tuesday it plans to call no more National Guardsmen or Reservists to active duty except for a few small units and individual officers.
An army spokesman said, however, changes on the international scene could throw its plans into the ash can. Since the start of the Korean war, the army has called about 350,000 Guardsmen and Re-

Remembers Poor In Bequest In Will
Stockton, Calif., Feb. 20 (P) — "I have been poor," said the last will of retired rancher Aladino Belluomini. "I know and understand the difficulties that beset people of limited means when confronted by illness, disease or injury."
So Belluomini, who died a week ago at 61, left his estate of more than $200,000 to San Joaquin county to provide the latest scientific treatment in medicines for the poor.
Belluomini came from Italy in 1913 and began work as a day laborer. He had been married only 10 months when his young wife died in childbirth.
Friends said he always felt that had he been able to afford adequate medical care his wife's life might have been saved.

Wake Up To More Comfort
Without Naging Backache
Naging backache, loss of pep and energy, headache and dizziness may be due to slow down of kidney function. Doctors say good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritation due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Dean's Pills—a mild, diuretic, that successfully has millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Dean's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 1 million kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Dean's Pills today!

Full Text Of Dr. Langsam's Address

To rely completely on government to do all the things which individual men are capable of doing and morally obligated to do, means to destroy moral fibre, self-reliance, ambition, and incentive to hard work; and, in the end, to destroy even gratitude.
Far from being able to make men good, a strong, centralized government staffed by a bureaucracy interested in regulating the affairs of every citizen's life is not even good government. If it were, then why did the people of Europe overthrow the benevolent despots of the eighteenth century? Those governments, administered by self-styled enlightened or progressive bureaucrats, did many of the things western governments are doing today.
Subsidized Industries
They subsidized favored industries, helped farmers keep up the price of food-stuffs, minutely regulated manufacturing, established priorities, fixed prices, handed out pensions, created jobs for voters, taxed heavily, snoopied into private citizens' affairs, duplicated services, conscripted soldiers, wasted money, got tangled in red tape, issued conflicting and contradictory edicts, objected to criticism, and multiplied the national debt. Those governments, indeed, did all the things which led our ancestors to leave Europe and come to the United States. And now we, their descendants, more interested in short hours and high pay than in opportunity for service and hard work, are looking with favor on another form of government which will do the same things all over again!
The spirit of our age probably gets its most practical or every-day expression in the constant preoccupation with things which is so characteristic of our people today. Jesus told us that we should not lay up treasures which "moths and rust consume." Yet more and more of our citizens are becoming materialists, are becoming men who cherish the tangible goods which "you cannot take with you." It is no accident that a major manufacturing company advertises over the radio the slogan "Better things for better living." Better things, you see, things that will make life easier and us lazier. As we face the troubled years ahead, too many of us are worried about the possibilities of a lower standard of living instead of being worried about what is happening to the spiritual values cherished by our forefathers. Again let me say that "man is so made that he must love something." And if he does not love God and his fellowman first, in every aspect of his life, then he begins to worship things, and the state which promises him these things.

Society Must Accept God
Democracy can function well only in a society which accepts God. It is a psychological fact that people by nature have the need to worship something, something that is above them and that they can look up to. And those same people, if they do not worship God, invariably seem to end by worshipping the state. And where the people worship the state, you have totalitarianism, not democracy. So we see that secularist people who leave religion out of their business and out of their government are really asking for a communist dictatorship.
As it works out today, education, especially public education, is both a cause and an effect of the prevailing secular mood. The dominant spirit in our education today, with a few conspicuous exceptions chiefly in church-related schools, is to emphasize worldly objectives. The slogan is to teach the youth how to make a living instead of teaching it how to live. The abiding realities of our religious and moral heritage are ignored because we are too misguided to indoctrinate our children with the importance of spiritual values. Not only is religion being given no place in most of our school systems, but all other subjects, especially history and literature, are taught in such a way that American children can get no idea of the important part played by religion in our whole national development. That is why our youngsters think and talk in terms of jobs instead of vocations or callings. That is why our youth is more interested in security than in opportunity. Thus education, with only a material basis, prepares the mind of our youth for a completely material life—which is a communistic, totalitarian life.
Collectivism And Totalitarianism
There is yet time to check our headlong journey to materialist collectivism and totalitarianism. We can check it by insisting that our children learn how to live as well as how to make a living. We can check it by insisting in our education on the return of religious principles, not religious control, to economics, politics, literature, and art.

CONFIRMATION RALLY PLANNED

"The Old Testament" was the subject of a paper presented by the Rev. Dr. Edward R. Hamme at the monthly meeting of the Gettysburg Classis Ministerium of the Evangelical and Reformed church Monday afternoon in Zion church, Arendtsville, with the Rev. Nevin R. Frantz as the host minister. Rev. Dr. Hamme is pastor of St. Luke's church, near White Hall, and St. James' church, along the Harney road. He read a paper telling the place of the Old Testament in Christian faith and knowledge.
The opening devotions were in charge of Rev. Mr. Frantz, who also read the Scripture lesson. The secretary's report was given by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's church, Littlestown. The Ministerium voted to sponsor a confirmation rally on Sunday evening, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the East Berlin Reformed church, the Rev. Alton M. Leister, host pastor. The Rev. Howard E. Sheely, vice president of the Mercersburg Synod and pastor of Trinity church, Hanover, will be the guest speaker for the rally. Such a rally was previously sponsored by the Reformed ministers of Adams county, who then invited the other ministers to participate, but this year all pastors of the Ministerium will help arrange for the rally.
The meeting closed with the benediction pronounced by the Rev. We can check it by asking God to shed His blessing on all those who strive to bring together once more: religion and life.
I hope that I may have said enough by now to indicate how important it is for the conscience of our time to develop a vigorous leadership inspired by faith, fortified by knowledge, and imbued with a deep sense of the dignity and worth of the individual. Such a leadership is needed to expose Marx's lie that "the democratic concept is a lie, because it is Christian." Such a leadership is needed to prove once and for all that the democratic concept of man is true because it is Christian.
JOLLY TIME ALWAYS POPS BETTER POP CORN

Howard E. Sheely. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Frantz in the social hall of the church.
The next meeting of the Gettysburg Classis Ministerium will be held Monday, March 17, at 2 p.m., with the Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, Gettysburg, as the host minister. A paper on "Christian Social Action" will be presented by the Rev. Edward J. Sykes, Jr., Spring Grove.
Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—A House labor subcommittee studying bills to strengthen mine safety laws grappled today with the old arguments of federal versus state control. Spokesmen from state mine departments—enforcers of present mine safety laws—were on hand as the committee met for its third day of hearings.
The group, headed by Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.), has been urged by the U. S. Bureau of Mines to pass legislation that will enable it to shut down unsafe mines and penalize owners who violate orders of federal mine inspectors.

Chamber Of Commerce To Mark Town's 88th Anniversary At Meeting On February 28

DINNER SESSION AT SCHOTTIE'S TO OBSERVE EVENT

A special program in commemoration of the 88th anniversary of the incorporation of the community as a borough is being arranged for the next meeting of the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce, which will be held in the form of a dinner meeting at Schottie's hotel, Thursday evening, February 28, at 6:30 o'clock.

The committee on arrangements for the dinner meeting is composed of L. Robert Snyder, Edward H. Leister, John D. Basehoar, Dr. Joseph R. Riden and Chester S. Byers. Tickets for the dinner at $1.50 each may be secured from any member of the committee at the State bank, Marvin's Cut Rate store or Basehoar's Ford garage.

During the business meeting that evening payment of Chamber dues will be in order. Dues also may be paid at any time to Chester S. Byers at the State bank or to L. Robert Snyder, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Special sales events also have been planned by the Chamber as part of the anniversary celebration.

Marvin P. Breishner, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has summarized the activities of the Chamber during 1951. In January, the Chamber of Commerce sponsored a series of radio broadcasts which originated from the Littlestown high school auditorium and were broadcast each Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock for a period of nine consecutive weeks. The programs featured local talent and the purposes of the broadcasts was to inform the people of Littlestown and surrounding community about the historical background, industry, business, churches, school system, recreational facilities and civic and social clubs of the community. This was the first time that a program of this type was tried in this area and much favorable comment was received.

In January, 25 of the local merchants decided to sponsor the Appreciation Treasure Chest program, to show the people of Littlestown that they are grateful for the support and patronage of the shoppers. The first program was held on February 4 at 3 o'clock and continued for a period of 13 weeks. Since then, this hour has been changed to 8 p.m. on Saturday evenings and the programs take place in front of the Record shop on South Queen street where a public address system has been set up. To date, the merchants of the community have expressed their thanks to their customers with gifts of cash, through the Appreciation Day Treasure Chest programs in the amount of $2,888. The merchants felt that this is a tangible way to show their customers that they appreciate their good will. The jackpot for this week's program contains $435.

Sponsored Sports

The Chamber's next project was in answer to the appeal from the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity, asking the organization to sponsor some campaign to help raise funds to purchase new uniforms for the Littlestown high school band. The Chamber decided to sponsor a Has-Bears baseball game in cooperation with the local baseball club. This game was staged on August 1 on Littlestown Memorial field and over $190 was realized and added to the uniform fund.

On Monday, November 26, Santa Claus was escorted into Littlestown by the local high school band, and his arrival ushered in the Christmas shopping season in the community. Santa's headquarters were located in the vacant storeroom between Zerling's and Banker's on South Queen street and he spent an entire evening talking to and treating the hundreds of children who visited him. Along with Santa's visit, the Chamber sent candy and oranges to both the Hoffman orphanage and the Paradise protector. It was at this season that the town's Christmas lights were lighted. This year additional strings of lights were added on South Queen street and it is the Chamber's desire to add more strings of lights each year.

Another big day in the 1951 history of the community was December 1. The new highway on North and South Queen streets through Littlestown was officially opened. The Chamber had arranged a parade and program and the huge crowd that witnessed the ceremonies agreed it was a success. C. H. Buckius, assistant secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, was the principal speaker. State Senator Donald P. McPherson and District Attorney Daniel E. Teeter also spoke briefly. Other state, county and borough dignitaries were in attendance. Miss Betty Yealy, who was chosen by a popular vote by the shoppers, reigned as queen of the parade and cut the tape, officially opening the road. Bands, drum corps, floats and marchers composed the parade. Cub Pack No. 84 entered the prize winning float and received a $50 cash prize. The contract price for the new road was $188,193 and Rife, Inc., of Hanover was the contractor. Dewey Collins, project engineer for the state Department of Highways, was in charge. The new street has a ten-inch stone base, covered with a 2 1/4-inch coat of asphalt. There are new curbs the entire length of the street for a total of 5,139 feet and the highway has a 38-foot road bed.

As the first event of this year, the Chamber has arranged special sales days in keeping with the celebration of the 88th birthday anniversary of Littlestown. A majority of the local merchants are featuring items at unusually low rates. Special items can be had in foodstuffs, furniture, home appliances, drug store products, etc. Shoppers are urged to take advantage of these great values which are being offered.

Littlestown Has Grown To Population Of 3,000; 20 Factories Employ Over 1,400 Persons

Weekly Payroll In Manufacturing Plants Tops $60,000; Property Valued At Nearly $1,000,000

Littlestown is again in readiness for a birthday celebration. The 88th anniversary of its incorporation as a borough will occur on Saturday.

About a century after it was laid out by Peter Little, legal status was given to Littlestown by being incorporated as a borough on February 23, 1864. This southern Adams county community, two miles above the Mason and Dixon Line, had settlers as early as 1734. Among the early settlers was Peter Little, who laid out the town, and from whom it received the name Petersburg. It was the founder's wish that the hamlet would be called Petersburg, forever, but to avoid confusion with another town of the same name in Adams county (now York Springs), the name was changed to Littlestown.

The growth of Littlestown was very slow, although the building of the Gettysburg-Petersburg turnpike (1807-1814) aided in attracting people to the community. The Littlestown railroad stretching to Hanover was a help in stimulating progress in a community which seemed at a standstill. An indelible mark in the history of Littlestown was placed by the Civil war. Crops were destroyed, fences burned and fields were cut up and destroyed.

First Paper In 1847
A petition for incorporation was filed on August 20, 1860, which was followed with remonstrances and exceptions. Elections were held to determine the wishes of the residents of the territory embraced in the proposed borough. Immediately after the incorporation of Littlestown as a borough many changes came about. The streets were repaired according to the laws of the newly organized borough council.

By 1847 the community was ready to begin printing a newspaper. A series of publications were introduced into the community, but none seemed to flourish, and the last publication, "The Adams County Independent," ceased in 1942.

Churches were organized in the community and began to add much to life in Littlestown. According to records, St. Aloysius Catholic church, of which the Rev. Fr. Edward J. Shanahan is the present pastor, was organized about 1791. Until its beginning many Catholics went to Conewago chapel, near McSherrytown. Christ Evangelical and Reformed church was the second church in the community. The Rev. G. Howard Koons is the present pastor there. The United Brethren church was organized but disbanded about 1925. The other churches of the community and their present pastors are: St. John's Lutheran church, the Rev. William C. Karna, pastor; Centenary Methodist church, the Rev. Harvey B. Simons, pastor; Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed church, the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor, and St. Paul's Lutheran church, the Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor.

Firemen Organized In '85
These churches contribute much to life today in Littlestown. Each has active organizations within the congregation and the church school departments. Several of the local churches have audio-visual departments in their Sunday schools. The forming of such departments has done much to make the teaching methods more modern and interesting. The Littlestown Ministerium, of which Rev. G. Howard Koons is president, each year sponsors several series of Sunday evening union vesper services at the different community churches. A preaching mission is conducted annually by the ministerium. Guest speakers are secured for all of these special services.

Alpha Fire Company No. 1 was organized in 1885 and occupies the engine house on East King street. The Juniors, a bucket brigade, was the first means of fire protection for the citizens of Littlestown. The group disbanded when the company was organized. The present engine house was built in 1887 and a cement block addition was constructed to this building during the last year. The structure, built by the company in cooperation with the borough council, will be used to house the community ambulance and fire fighting equipment. The company is very well equipped. It owns two modern trucks, a LaFrance and a later model Mack truck. These are an active Ladies' Auxiliary to the company.

Started With 913
The population of the community in 1860 was listed as 913. The statistics of that time list 298 taxpayers in the borough; value of real estate, $185,715; value of monies at interest, $78,935; value of trades and professions, $15,405. The population today has grown to approximately 3,000.

Since the adoption of the public school system in 1836, the schools of Littlestown have come a long way. The first schools were one room log structures. A two-story brick building was erected on East King street in 1871 and contained four rooms. In 1901, this building was replaced with the present two-story grade school building which included a two-year high school course. This became a three-year high school in 1914 and a four-year high school in 1917. A west wing was added in 1917. The present high school building on Maple avenue was erected during 1932 and 1933.

and Paul E. King, the present supervising principal, was principal then. In 1949, the Littlestown Junior-senior high school system was set up. A wing containing modern classrooms and a well equipped cafeteria was added, and was occupied for the first time at the beginning of the 1949-50 term. The school employs a sufficient and capable faculty. A modern curriculum has been adopted. The most recent courses to be incorporated in the curriculum are an extensive guidance program and a student driver training course.

Many Improvements
"Littlestown Memorial Field," a first class athletic field, was developed during 1949. It was dedicated July 4, 1949, when the first night baseball game was played on it. The financing of this project was undertaken by the Littleton Shoe company with the understanding that the loan be amortized by the receipts from high school athletics, community baseball and other entertainment events. The operation of Memorial field is under the direction of the Athletic Council of which Marvin F. Breighner is the president.

The parish of St. Aloysius Catholic church erected a large brick school building in 1867. In 1881 a home adjoining the lot was bought and remodeled for a school building.

The old United Brethren church was bought by the parish in 1925 and razed to make way for a new parochial school which was dedicated in 1926.

In 1897 the water system was established in Littlestown. Drilled wells were added in 1938 and 1941, and today the system has a capacity of 320 gallons per minute without the springs and an average pressure of 35 pounds.

Evenly Divided Politically
Littlestown has one of the most modern sewer systems in the country. Construction of the system and disposal plant was begun as a WPA project in 1941. The government withdrew funds and the project was abandoned in April, 1943. At this time ten percent of the sewer lines had been laid and 75 percent of the disposal plant had been constructed without equipment. The project was revived in April, 1948, and completed May 18, 1948. The total cost of the plant in addition to what was invested by the WPA amounted to $369,508.31. The total approximate indebtedness was $380,000. As of July 28, 1950, there had been 535 hook-ups out of a possible 700.

The total number of registrations in Littlestown for 1950 reveals 1,295 in the two wards with the party divisions as follows: Republicans, 675; Democrats, 605; non-partisans, 15.

The community has many fraternal, civic and social organizations. The most recently formed group is the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226. The auxiliary was formed during last October with a charter membership of approximately 75. The organization of a Parent Teachers' association is now in progress.

Littlestown has had three banks. The first was the Littlestown Savings Institution, which was chartered on January 14, 1867. This bank closed in September, 1931. The second is the Littlestown National bank, chartered May 26, 1908, with authority issued to transact trust funds in 1928. The third is the Littlestown State bank, chartered November 4, 1934, and opened for business April 1, 1935.

ARMY OFFICER RETURNING FROM DUTY IN KOREA

Major Edwin W. Elder, Jr., of Littlestown, whose wife is the former Miss Ruth R. Wareheim of that borough, is expected to return to this country on February 23, after a year and a half in Korea. Maj. Elder is due to land in Seattle, Wash., on that date and expects to spend a 30-day leave in Littlestown before re-assignment. Mrs. Elder leaves tonight for Seattle to meet her husband.

Maj. Elder is a native of Baltimore and graduated from Baltimore City college. He graduated at Western Maryland college in 1940 after a noteworthy athletic career. He was quarterback of the football team during his sophomore, junior and senior years and captain of the team in his senior year.

He entered the army in June, 1940, immediately after graduation, as a second lieutenant and served overseas in World War II for three years, with combat service in Africa, Sicily, France, Belgium and Germany. He participated in three invasions, the North African, Sicilian and D-day in Normandy. All of his World War II service was with the famous "Fighting First" Infantry Division.

He returned to the United States in June, 1945, after V-E day and was assigned to duty at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. In 1946 he received a presidential appointment as an officer in the regular army. After graduation from the officers' advanced course at the infantry school, Ft. Benning, Ga., he was flown to Tokyo in August, 1950, shortly after the outbreak of hostilities in Korea.

Major Elder went to Korea in September of that year with the X Corps, in the Inchon landings. He also participated in the Wonsan

Hustlers' Class At Meeting On Monday

Eighteen members and two visitors were in attendance at the monthly meeting of the Hustlers' Sunday school class of Redeemer's Reformed church Monday evening in the church social hall. The program was in charge of Mrs. Clement A. Sneeringer, chairman of the February committee, and opened with a song service with Miss Barbara Swam as piano accompanist. The Scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Hamilton C. Walker, and prayer was offered by Mrs. Paul Crabbs. A reading, "Washington's Kiss," was given by Miss Lillian Demmitt. Miss Barbara Swam played the following piano selections, "Holy City," "Waltz Viennese" and "God Bless America."

The business session was held in charge of the class president, Mrs. Hazel Hess. Reports were given by the secretary, Miss Louise Duttera, and the treasurer, Mrs. George DeHoff. The group voted to purchase reading desk lights for use in the Adult Sunday school department. The following were selected to serve as a committee to prepare a slate of class officers, Mrs. Donald G. Garner, chairman, Mrs. Clement A. Sneeringer and Mrs. Hamilton C. Walker. The guess package was contributed by Mrs. Melvin B. Wehler and was received by Mrs. Hamilton Walker. A group contest was held and was won by Miss Evelyn Hornberger. Refreshments were served to the group by the committee consisting of Mrs. Sneeringer, chairman, Mrs. Paul Crabbs and Miss Lillian Demmitt.

The next meeting of the Hustlers' class, which is taught by Theron W. Spangler, will be held Monday, March 17, 7:30 p.m., in the social hall. The March committee on arrangements is composed of Mrs. George DeHoff, chairman, Miss Malva Duttera and Mrs. Louise Duttera.

mer pastor of St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, and the present pastor of First Reformed church, Carlisle, officiated. Interment was in the St. Mary's Union cemetery, Silver Run. Serving as pallbearers were Eli Duttera, Maurice Duttera, Roy D. Knouse and Calvin Harmon.

SCOUTS TO SEE SHOW

GEORGE WASHINGTON

was NOT Famous for throwing Money Around

When it comes to a question of throwing coins across rivers, we take sides with the skeptical humorist who said —"George Washington could make a dollar go a long way, but not that way."

In all his accomplishments, the First American exhibited a rare combination of courage, initiative and common sense. It's the common sense we point to now, for that quality as much as any other made Washington a great man.

'IT'S NICE LIVING ALONE WITH GOD,' HERMIT DECIDES

By HAL BOYLE
St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP) — This climate is very good for hermits. My favorite hermit, old Silas Dent, is still thriving at 71, convinced that a man can find happiness alone.

Old Silas is Florida's senior hermit. He lives on a small island 12 miles southwest of here, and is known as "the hermit of Cabbage Key."

Silas, who has a bushy beard and rather looks like Santa Claus gone to seed, gets along very well on a $65 a month state pension and the pin money he picks up selling handmade fly swatters to tourists.

Palm Thatch Hut
About once a month old Silas beats over to the nearby village of Pass-A-Grille to laugh at the tourists, then returns to his island paradise and his favorite pastime—reading the Bible.

Dent has lived there in a palm thatch hut in a cluster of pine trees for 40 years. He doesn't drink or smoke and has a quietly cheerful outlook on life. I love him because of a remark he made to me when I visited him years ago.

"I ain't felt blue since 1912," he said, "and I forget now what worried me then."

You have to admire a man like that. He never lets time weigh heavily on him.

"If I get to feeling restless," he said, "I just take one of the hairs from my beard between my fingers and try to split it. Sometimes I can split it clear up to my chin."

Peril Of Civilization
As he has a heavy beard, this keeps him pretty busy.

Some time ago a niece of old Silas became worried about him and talked him into coming to live with her family on the mainland. The very first evening, rather against his will, she prepared him a hot bath.

Old Silas stepped reluctantly into the shining tub—and promptly fell and broke five ribs. As soon as he recovered he insisted on returning to his island hut, where he announced: "Civilization is too dangerous."

Only three other people live on the island—Claude McCall, a shrimp fisherman, his wife, and their two-year-old son, Terry. Mrs. McCall keeps a watchful eye on the elderly hermit's health.

He enjoys her solicitude very much, as he is an old hypochondriac at heart. Each equinox he is sure he will die, but the prospect of death doesn't dismay him in the least.

"I have made my peace with the Lord," he tells visitors, "and I am just sitting here waiting for Him to take me in His own time."

Old Silas has been such a success at hermiting he is inspiring others to follow his example.

The latest are two lady hermits—Mrs. Barbara Simons and Esther Shelton. They live all alone on a one-acre mangrove patch near Cabbage Key which they call "God's Island." They spend their time painting and writing. When the waves lap over their island during storms, they go to a village hotel on the mainland.

Seem Very Happy
"They seem very happy out here," said Wilson Hubbard, a rugged young fishing guide who rowed me out to their retreat. Hubbard flew to many strange parts of the world as a transport pilot for Uncle Sam. He has a grateful feeling toward the last world war because, as he said, "it taught me that everything I really wanted out of life was right back here at home."

Unfortunately, I didn't get to see the two lady hermits. A note on their door said they had gone to town for a few days to visit friends. They don't mind civilization as much as old Silas does.

I looked through a window of their friendly, weathered fishing shack. Everything was neat and in its place. From a wall hung a small, hand-lettered sign that said:

"It is nice living alone with God."

New Oxford

New Oxford — The recently born son of William and Martha Kaiser Sunbury, near Hampton, has been named William Michael. He was christened last week at the local Catholic church with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jams C. Smith, as godparents. The pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, officiated.

Mrs. Robert C. Berkheimer, Jr., Abbottstown, formerly Miss Nettie M. Kopman, this place, who recently underwent an operation at the Hanover hospital and later returned to her home, is reported convalescing.

George A. Haar, Pine Run, has returned from a vacation in Florida. Mrs. Arthur S. Noel is reported improved after being confined to her room by serious illness.

Russell Myers, who resides near Pine Run, has returned to his home where he is recuperating after recent treatment at the Hanover hospital.

The Friendship Circle of the Pine Lutheran church, New Chester, met during the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Noel, Emmitsburg, visited during the past week at the home of his brother, C. William Noel, and family, and acted as godparents at the christening of the newly born daughter of William and Madeline Rightmire Noel, who was named Beverly Ann. The child was baptized at the local Catholic church by the pastor, the Rev. Robert D. Hartnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Hughes, who farmed near Pine Run until a few years ago when they moved to Glen Rock, are returning to this section and expect to reside in Hanover while Mr. Hughes is employed with the local Staub Chevrolet Sales, Inc.

William C. Alwine, Jr., was recently chosen president of the Nu-Ox Rod and Gun club, an organization of local sportsmen. Other officers for 1952 will be: Vice president, Charles Myers; secretary, Robert Shrader; and treasurer, Albert W. Rohrbaugh.

Two operators of the local telephone exchange resigned their positions within a short time recently. They are Mrs. Gwendolyn Freed Warren, bride of Myron C. Warren since last summer, and Miss Betty V. Sheely. One vacancy was filled shortly afterward by Miss Teresa Poist. The head operator for some time has been Miss M. Bernice Weaver.

As many as half a million menhaden, a species of fish, have been trapped in a single catch.

Weekly Payroll

ment valuations of real estate in Littlestown as revealed by the borough secretary is $800,885; occupation assessments, $119,890; total, $1,029,775. There are 1,717 taxable residents and 86 non-resident taxables. The school district lists the value of its property at $5,204,492, according to the tax equalization board. The borough tax rate is 15 mills and three mills for sinking fund. The school tax is 26 mills on real estate and a per capita tax of $10.

61 Types Of Business
Littlestown is noted for its large amount of employees, over 1,400. With this large number of employees, the town is operating 20 manufacturing establishments, including both large and small. The weekly payroll from these establishments is approximately $60,000. People are employed here from Taneytown, Thurmont, Westminster, Hanover, Gettysburg, Silver Run, Emmitsburg, McSherrytown, New Oxford, Bonneauville, Littlestown and other nearby communities.

The community also has a variety of business establishments, 61 separate types, with a total of 148, in the borough and surrounding community. The business establishments employ 517 people, and have a weekly payroll amounting to approximately $20,000. Many nationally known products are produced in Littlestown. The survey concerning the manufacturing and business establishments of the town was made about a year ago.

During the last depression years Littlestown had the lowest percentage of unemployment anywhere in the United States. This employment is distributed among the following places in the community: tanning and shoe factories, a foundry, machine and pattern shops, a cabinet factory, silk mill, building contractors and supplies, a motor repair shop, paper box, cigar and sewing factories, manufacturers of concrete products, light and gas utility services, the Pennsylvania railroad, a dairy and a creamery, three warehouses, plumbers, farm implement dealers, five garages, service stations, two livery stables, painters and decorators, barber shops, dozens of retail establishments, a photographic shop, a print shop and beauty salons.

Many Residences Built
Considerable building has been going on in the community during the past five years. Littlestown has grown very rapidly due to extensive residential building. The areas around the northern and west ends of the community have especially expanded. Many of the industries have constructed additions to original factories and many other plants have made provisions for additions, so that more people will be employed and production will increase.

From July through November, the construction of a new highway extending from South through North Queen streets took place. Special road dedication ceremonies were held on December 1. The new road and many other recent improvements have done much to add to the beauty of Littlestown.

The future looks bright for Littlestown. "The Town Where Agriculture and Industry Meet."

News From Littlestown

RESIDENTS PAID $44,028 IN '51 FOR WATER AND SEWER SERVICE

Littlestown residents paid $44,028.88 to obtain water and sewer services during 1951, according to the annual financial report of the borough filed with the county clerk of courts.

The report of the auditors, Wilbur A. Bankert, Warren C. Harner and Harry O. Harner, shows that metered sales of water to industrial and commercial users totalled $5,236.96, metered sales to residential area totalled $1,646.30 and unmetered sales totalled $12,896.43. Sewer rents totalled $24,347.19. Income other than rentals or charges brought the total income of the sewer fund to $73,858.33 including a balance of $46,879.99 from the previous year, and total income in the water fund was $34,433.15, including a balance of $12,922.76 from the prior year.

Cost of operation of the water system was $25,284.55. Of that amount, it cost $1,187.57 to collect the water bills, $67.69 for purification, $5,856.19 for pumping, $17,856.33 for distribution and $316.77 for general expenses. Largest amount for pumping was $5,032.66 spent for power to operate the pumps. Maintenance of mains and pipes cost $10,065.80 and supplies cost $7,428.94. Salary costs included $1,062.52 for collections, $630 for pumping, $93.69 for distribution, and $156.75 for general office employees. The town also paid $5,100 to the borough authority under its lease agreement.

Combustion Chambers Cleaned By Revolutionary New Method!

CARBON REMOVED WITHOUT REMOVING THE HEAD

Now we can remove the "ping" and restore the power in your car's engine without removing the cylinder head! Oldsmobile has developed a brand new machine — the "Head-On" Carbon Blaster — which means a faster, more efficient, more economical method of cleaning combustion chambers when required.

FASTER
This new method cleans every combustion chamber in your car in much less time!

MORE EFFICIENT
Extensive tests prove decisively that the Carbon Blaster method is very effective in removing carbon and eliminating detonation.

STEPS UP PERFORMANCE
Increased power — new performance! You'll feel as though you were driving a new car.

SAVES YOU MONEY!
Best of all — we save you money because the head remains intact during the cleaning.

STUDENTS TELL OF OWN LANDS

Miss Sonia da Silva, of Brazil, and Ambrosio Grandeia, of the Philippine Islands, were guest speakers at the weekly meeting of the Littlestown Rotary club Tuesday evening in Schottie's banquet hall. They told of the people, climate, schools and customs of their country. Miss da Silva stated that Brazil is as large as the United States with an extra Texas added. Mr. Grandeia said that his small country is recovering slowly from World War II, in which it suffered two billion dollars worth of damage. Both are students at Western Maryland college, Westminster, Md., and were introduced by Frank E. Baschour, chairman of the International Service committee, which was in charge of the meeting. Other members of this committee are Edward Richardson, Sr., Paul E. King, Charles M. Weikert, Frank Krocak and William Gingrow.

A. W. Schott introduced two visiting Rotarians, J. Ralph Bonsack and Carroll L. Crawford, Westminster, Md. Other visitors were C. C. Snyder, York, and Dr. P. D. Zulick, Littlestown.

President Charles Ritter announced that the 268th district will hold a district conference at Lancaster on May 4, 5, and 6. Next week's meeting will be in charge of the Program committee, consisting of L. Robert Snyder, Bernard F. Schott, A. G. Ealy, Preston Myers, Lloyd L. Stately, and Arthur E. Bair. "Sons and Daughters Night" will be observed, and each Rotarian is invited to have a son or daughter present.

Rotarians William T. Gingrow and Luther W. Ritter received congratulations on both becoming the fathers of daughters during the past week.

TO SERVE DINNER
The members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Kingsdale Volunteer Fire company No. 1 will hold a dinner on Thursday noon in the company engine house for a group of employees from the Carroll Shoe company.
